
Zeynah

Buyers are calling. Someone always answers. Even Sunday at 9 p.m.

Zeynah takes buyer and tenant inquiries, qualifies budget and financing, sends out exposés and books viewings — around the clock. In 20+ languages.

Real estate pilot program — 3 spots available

Why now?

- Every missed call is a missed deal — a single commission covers months of cost.
- Prospects call in the evening and on weekends — whoever answers first gets the viewing.
- Agents spend hours qualifying leads — Zeynah does it fully automatically.

What Zeynah finds in a single weekend

These four warnings come from real agencies. Not made up.

SOS · Missed buyer

€12,400

Purchase inquiry from Saturday, 9:15 p.m. Never answered. On Monday he signed with a competitor.

SOS · Portal leads gone cold

9 of 10

Prospects drop off when no answer comes within an hour.

SOS · Viewing ping-pong

27 follow-ups

for a single viewing: date, documents, proof of financing.

SOS · Vacancy

43 days

the flat sits empty because rental inquiries were left unanswered.

Three steps. No decision without a human.

Zeynah takes in, qualifies, books — but never decides alone.

Take in

Call, WhatsApp, portal inquiry, email. Zeynah takes it all — and turns it into a clean ticket.

Qualify

Budget, financing, equity, timeline: Zeynah asks — like your best employee.

Book

The viewing lands in the calendar — only when a human confirms is it fixed.

How a buyer inquiry flows

The prospect writes as always — short, from the sofa, no form.

Prospect writes

Hi, is the 3-room flat on Hafenstraße still available? What does it cost?

Zeynah detects

Hafenstraße 12 — available, €349,000.
Exposé sent. Equity and timeline asked.

What decision-makers really ask

How does the pilot work?

We set Zeynah up with your real properties, prospects and processes. You test with real inquiries from your daily work. In the end you decide calmly — no drama.

What happens if the internet goes down?

Zeynah runs in the cloud with redundant infrastructure. Inquiries are caught up automatically. In an emergency you can always fall back on your local software.

What about data protection?

GDPR-compliant, servers in the EU, all data encrypted. You receive a data processing agreement (DPA) from us — and callers are informed transparently. Privacy was built in from the start, not added later.
